Largest Farm Fires In History of the County

Many persons have read of farm fires where nearly the entire farm was destroyed in the way of buildings were destroyed at one time by fire but the first to be recorded in this county was the fire on the Frank Townsley farm, east of town, Sabbath night, about 6:30, when two barns, a residence, implement shed, also, garage, smoke house and wood house were all destroyed by fire that originated in the barn and was fanned by the high wind until every vestige of flammable material was destroyed.

The fire was discovered by Ralph Townsley, a son of Frank, who resides on the farm, while he was milking. He immediately gave the alarm to neighbors by ringing the dinner bell and set to work liberating the stock. In this he was only partially successful as six head of fine draft horses were burned along with several head of calves. The milk cows were released and saved. One colt that escaped had its back singed but not serious. A number of calves were also partly burned but they cannot likely recover.

The rapidly with which the fire spread cannot hardly be described by the neighbors who rendered all the assistance possible. Every effort was made to save the residence which was in the path of the wind but to no avail. Much of the household goods on the first floor was saved and carried to places of safety but for clothing only a small part could be reached. The greatest danger in saving the personal effects was after they were taken from the house for the burning embers ignited everything burnable. For this reason the goods had to be taken far from the house.

The situation was spectacular and at the same time distressing in that the hundreds that soon gathered could be of no assistance. The greatest fire department could not have done more than the willing hands that had to stand and see the efforts of almost the life time of two generations go up in smoke.

Probably no country fire in this section ever drew so many people. The heavens were lighted with multitudes and people were attracted from Solon, South Charleston, Xenia, Jamestown, and Springfield. We never before saw so many automobiles parked on a country road.

The burning embers were carried for a half mile to the north and threatened another barn almost directly in the path that was owned by Mr. Townsley. It required the heroic efforts of Frank Townsley, the tenant, to protect his property.

Just how the fire started probably no one will ever know. Not fifteen minutes before the discovery Ralph was in the now throwing down feed for the animals and at that time there was no sign of fire. The fire started in the new barn one of the finest in the county, being erected several years ago at a cost of $5000. It was said to be the most complete barn in this section.

The residence was a brick of ten rooms and was built by the late James Townsley a number of years ago. Some four or five years ago Mr. Townsley modernized the house making it one of the most attractive country homes in the township.

As to the contents of the barn all the farm machinery with the exception of two breaking plows and a wagon that were in the field, were lost along with all kinds of feed. Ralph's automobile happened to be standing near the house and was moved to a place of safety. The only buildings remaining are the chicken house and an old crib that housed about 1000 bushels of corn. It was the hardest work that the crib was saved. In the shed was a new John Deere tractor belonging to George Hammon but this was moved.

Walter Iliff happened to be visiting at R. R. Townsley's, a neighbor, when the fire was discovered. He drove to the scene and left his machine near the house unattended of the fate of the auto. It was not long until the top was afire but it was not extinguished until the top was ruined. The loss is covered by insurance.

Mr. Townsley's loss is placed near $40,000 with only about $7,500 insurance on the house and barns. The loss will be keenly felt not only from a financial standpoint but the inconvenience at this season of the year without teams, machinery or feed. The condition of the markets for machinery or building material makes it hard to get deliveries regardless of price.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE.

As a result of burning corn stocks fire spread to a straw stack and then the heavens were lighted with multitudes and people were attracted from Solon, South Charleston, Xenia, Jamestown, and Springfield. We never before saw so many automobiles parked on a country road.

ENDOWMENT GIFTS

Friends to Cedarville College will be pleased to know that the fund now amounting to $8,900 while $25,000 is necessary to endow the Bible Chair for the new campus which was recently incorporated for $50,000 to take over the two elevators and general business of Yoder Bros.

R. C. WATT HEADS NEW COMPANY.

The stockholders of The Farmers Grain Co. held a meeting in the opera house Saturday afternoon at which time the organization was perfected for the new company. The stockholders of the Farmers Grain Co. held a meeting in the opera house Saturday afternoon at which time the organization was perfected for the new company.

FRED BIRD WAS STOKED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bird were stoked by the storm which hit the city last night. The storm broke over the city about 12:30.

One department store was a complete wreck and the owner, Mr. Peck, had no tornado insurance. Telephone, telegraph and electric lines were down over the city and there were no lights. The city is desolate and none of the factories using city power can run for several days. The watch company generates its own power and of course the factory is in operation without the loss of time.

Two churches were in the path of the storm, the Congregational and Baptist. The storm broke over the city about 12:30.

STRIKES EVERYWHERE.

The coal strike seems to be pushed back for a time at least. However the price of coal is to be greatly advanced as a result of the new wage scale for miners. Strikes are brewing with the stock handlers at the packing houses, carpenters, renters and most every class of organized labor. We will never purchase cheaper food products or clothing with labor on a rampage. It seems to be a case of the survival of the fittest.

TAKING A POLL.

The Springfield Sun is taking a poll among factory workers and the office buildings in that city to get public sentiment on the presidential race and also for governor. In the canvass General Wood has the lead for the Republican nomination with Senator Harding a close second while Gov. Cox has the lead for the Democratic nomination. For governor N. H. Fairbanks has a big lead over all the other candidates for the Republican nomination while State Auditor Donahay leads for the Democratic nomination.

RENT PROTEETERS.

We are reading much these days about the high rents in the cities. Rent strikes are common in New York City, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities. Most of this trouble is with the labor classes. There is no other alternative for the land lord than higher rents with taxes, insurance and risk for the investment. The laborer seems to forget that it is the ten and twelve dollar wages that is bringing about this condition.

Some clothing taken from the Townsley home Sabbath night during the fire was placed in various automobiles. Much of this has not been turned over to the owner. Will those who know anything about clothing placed in automobiles please report to Ralph Townsley.

WHAT EASTER MEANS?

The glad Easteride again is at hand. The long winter is past and the spring with her promise of happier days is here. Easter! Another incident in the greatest story every told; a story that after all grips the human heart and keeps alive the embers of hope. Throughout all the land the glad Easter bells will chime and well-clothed throngs will enter the portals of the church to sit amid perfume of flowers and be lulled to sweet complacency by the soothing tones of pipe organ. But, oh, how many of these worshippers will really grasp the beauty of the risen Christ? Here are those who find the day only one for display. When Easter comes, salute thyself; see what thy soul doth wear. Remember that clothing does not make the man and look deep into your heart and see what you find there. How many in that well-dressed Easter throng will pause to think of the resurrection the day recalls might have reared a palace at a word and yet at times had not where to lay His head. He healed the wounded yet His own side bled. He never thought of Himself but all His self-denying love was for the needs of others. Here is our Easter thought for the good people of this vicinity. Be glad of the story of old; rejoice that spring has come again, but be not puffed up over things own achievements. After all we are but God's children and there is no last of first. Remember that He gave His life for thee and has the right to ask "What hast thou given Me?" There is need of the Christian religion today. There is need of the church of God, and a new Easter bonnet is not an essential part of the service. And how many of us can go to church Easter and realize the benediction of the Holy Spirit in an old suit of a shabby gown? If you can, gentle reader, then you have the true religion of the lowly Nazarene—you are a Christian.

DEPOPULATING THE FARMS.

Again this paper deems it a duty to sound a warning to the young men of our towns, villages and farming community. Stay away from the big cities—remain on the farm. All over the country there is a tremendous shortage in dwelling houses in the centers of population. In the cities fabulous prices are charged for rents simply because the landlords know that they can collect any sum they choose. But why this condition of affairs? Very simple. The higher wages in the farms by the hundreds of thousands by the hundreds of thousands, and they must be housed and fed. They receive higher wages, it is true, but they forget until too late that their expenses are in like proportion. Daily our farms are becoming depopulated, and if the stampede continues and there is no influx of farm labor from the old world we will soon be face to face with the national calamity of a non-production of the food necessary to sustain life. If there be wisdom in the seats of the mighty it is time that it be brot into play.

Family Mixup.

Last year I asked my best girl to become my wife, and she said "No!" But I got even with the girl. I married her mother. Then my father married the girl. Now I don't know what I am. When I married the girl's mother the girl became my daughter, and when father married my daughter she was my mother. Who in the dickens am I? My mother's mother (which is my wife) must be my grandmother, and I being my grandmother's husband, I am my own grandfather.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Things Mend.

Every line of history inspires a confidence that we shall not go far wrong; that things mend. That is the moral of all we learn, that it warrants hope, the prolific mother of reforms. Our part is plainly not to throw ourselves across the track to block improvement and sit till we are stone, but to watch the uprise of successive mornings and to conspire with the new works of new days.—Emerson.

FAMILY ALL WELL?

When Your Friends Ask That, Can You Always Say "Yes"?

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS BLOOD

The Happy Family Is One Where Everybody Has Red-Blooded Health

Children should not be pale and wan. Women should not be tired, weak and blue. Young girls should not be sallow, listless and anemic. Men should not feel run-down and poorly. Poor health and lack of vitality are often merely the result of impoverished blood.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is for people whose bodies suffer from lack of proper blood nourishment. Pepto-Mangan enriches the blood and increases the number of healthy red blood cells, which are so necessary to carry the proper nourishment, vigor, and strength to every part of the body.

It contains the very properties that are so sorely needed to build up this watery blood. Physicians call it the Red Blood Builder.

For your convenience Pepto-Mangan is prepared in two forms, liquid and tablet. Both contain exactly the same medicinal value.

Insist on the genuine Pepto-Mangan. To be sure you are buying the genuine Pepto-Mangan, ask your druggist for "Gude's". And be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package.

Simple Explanation.

Why is it that fishes make no disturbance when swimming through the water, although there is a rushing noise when a stone is flung in? This is explained by the fact that in the latter case, it is the filling of the cavity that is made, rather than the mere impact, which causes the noise, whereas the body of the fish is so shaped that when it moves through the water it leaves no such cavity behind it and therefore there is no disturbance.

Standard English Pound.

The original English pound was derived from the weight of 7,380 grains of wheat taken from the middle of the ears and well dried. This remained the standard from the time of William the Conqueror to the time of Henry VIII, in whose reign the avoirdupois pound of 7,000 grains came into use. This was established as the standard pound during the reign of Queen Elizabeth and has been continued to the present day.

Growth.

Married people should try to learn how to grow towards each other. No human thing, marriage least of all, can be allowed to grow untended. It takes pains and thought, as well as unselfishness, to grow good marriages.—Woman's Magazine.

Columbus Gasoline

To keep your motor running sweet and pretty, be it twin six or flivver, good old Columbus is the one and only bet.

No matter how rich you are, you can't buy better gasoline than Columbus. And if you're poor from paying income taxes, you can't afford to buy less miles per gallon than Columbus will give you.

Thousands of happy car owners already are singing the praises of Columbus. When you join in the chorus, your pocketbook will put in some barber-shop swipes of contentment, too.

All grades are downhill with Columbus in the tank. And those coughing knocks vanish when the carburetor gets its first taste of this good, wholesome gasoline.

You'll know and your engine will know that there's really "something better" in the tank. And just a touch on the self-starter or a twist of the crank makes both motor and driver sit up and take notice.

How to Lower Your Meat Bills

Hints From the Department of Justice

HOUSEWIVES BUY LAMB AND MUTTON UNWISELY.

The Eat More Lamb campaign which is being conducted throughout the country at the present time before colleges, domestic science schools, women's clubs, various institutions, public schools, markets, etc., has brought before the general public the value of lamb as a food product, but especially has it demonstrated the value and economy of the cheaper cuts of lamb which have been neglected. It has been a contention of the retailer for years that a great part of the fore-quarter—the neck, shoulder, shank and breast—must be sold at a loss or eventually reach the scrap or bone box.

Some retail butchers bone out these cheap fore-quarter cuts, put them through the meat grinder, season them and mold them into lamb patties, putting a strip of bacon around each one, leave them in the cooler overnight and sell all of them next day at good prices. Many butchers could sell more than they can supply. The butcher has thus turned into an asset or profit-maker that portion which has heretofore been considered a loss.

Steaks and roasts can be had from the shoulder, lamb rolls from the neck, breast and shoulder, and neck slices are obtained by cutting the neck in sections crosswise, so that the meat has the appearance of chops and is a very inviting dish when served as a stew or potpie with an casserole. The cheaper cuts of lamb are made from the breast, shoulder, shank and neck which combined are about 18 per cent of the lamb.

Lamb is a healthful food for all people. It is very nutritious, wholesome and palatable and in caloric value is equal or superior to any other meat.

The boned and rolled shoulder mentioned above is used for roasting purposes; it can also be cut to any desired weight or can be sliced into Sirloin chops.

The United States government statistics tell us that each year the average housewife buys for every person in her household only about 5 pounds of lamb as compared with about 71 pounds of pork and 67 pounds of beef. If all American families used lamb one week it would mean more than 20 pounds of lamb annually per capita, or four times the present consumption.

More than that, the head of the family, who pays the bills, would no doubt encourage purchasing the cheaper lamb cuts instead of merely a few chops at a time. A shoulder of lamb, being smaller than the average beef joint and less expensive, should appeal especially to small families.

The marketing expeditions should be an education in economy. It usually pays to shop before you buy.

It usually pays to do your marketing personally rather than telephone your order.

Lamb steaks and lamb chops take but a few moments to cook, but they are the most expensive cuts. As it is a limited demand for the fore-quarter cuts and it is necessary to convert these cheaper cuts into sausage in order to sell them at all.

Lamb is a somewhat reasonable meat, by far the greater part of live lambs reach the market during the latter half of the year. In the spring around Easter time, lamb may be as high or higher than other meats. In the fall and early winter it is nearly always much cheaper.

The following average prices compiled by the National Wool Growers' association from representative retailers throughout the country show comparative levels of the different meats in the fall season as they occurred in the middle of October, 1919. These figures are not applicable now, except that they emphasize a typical relationship.

Lamb—Leg, 37 cents; loin, 44 cents; shoulder, 27 cents; rib chops, 40 cents.

Sheep—Leg, 29 cents; loin, 28 cents; shoulder, 10 cents; chops, 35 cents.

Pork—Loin, 45 cents; fresh ham, 35 cents.

Beef—Sirloin, 45 cents; porterhouse, 48 cents; tenderloin, 60 cents; round steak, 28 cents.

These prices were for the best-quality meats in all cases.

Mutton Stew With Barley.

Cut meat from neck or breast into small pieces. Put in kettle with water to cover. Use about 1 1/2 cups water to a pound of meat. Add onions, carrot, salt and pepper. For each pint liquid add 1-2 cup pearl barley. Simmer gently two or three hours.

Many Sources of Copra.

While the Philippines have loomed large as an exporter of copra and coconut oil, the industry is a prominent one in many other oriental countries. Some of the best copra in the world comes from the Malay coast in India, and although prepared by native methods, great care is exercised in choosing the seeds and in ripening them for a month or more on platforms. When the nuts are dried by this process, practically all the water is eliminated and the meat comes out white and in good condition.

To Open New Books.

Teach the children early how to liber up the bindings of their new books. Don't let them crack the binding open, stick the ruler of the book back down on a table and, holding the body of the leaves firm, open first a page or two at the front, then a few at the back and so on till the volume lies evenly open to the center. A book put into commission in this scientific fashion has a fair chance of long life.

Shellac.

Shellac is the joint product of insects and plants and comes from India. The lac insects are about 1/25 of an inch long, a bright red in color. They suck the juices of plants, digest them and excrete them in the form of resin, which soon encases the whole insect. When the young insects have swarmed out, the resin is scraped from the branches, ground, washed, mixed with colophony and oil and pressed into sheets and drawn out into thin sheets we know as shellac.

Military Promotion

Promotion in rank on the field of battle is the oldest and most satisfactory reward for valorous military service possible. The custom has existed since war began. It probably originated about the time that armies grew out of the mob stage—when the strongest was the chief and the next strongest who fought their way to his side by physical valor in time of battle were the subchiefs. It existed at Crecy and Agincourt when the commander of the British forces lifted the visors of their helmets and struck with their swords the jerkins of a few valiant bowmen or spearmen with the ancient formula of knighthood. It existed in the Napoleonic wars, when the Little Corporal made marshals of France of such men as Ney and Bertrand on the field of battle. It was always the prerogative of sovereigns in the days when kings and emperors led their own troops to battle and to a great extent it has persisted through the times when leaders of peoples became more of statesmen than warriors.

How Fish Eat.

When a codfish cuts it takes an oyster in its mouth, cracks the shell, dejects the meat, and ejects the shell. Crabs crack the shells of their smaller neighbors and suck out their meat. This accounts for the mounds of shells which are found beneath the waves. And as further illustrating the constant destruction going on in the oceans' depths, it is said that if a ship sinks of sea it will be eaten by the fish with the exception of its metal portions.

Inverse Ratio.

In a moment's time you can figure out how much cheaper it will be to use Hanna's Green Seal Paint on your property than inferior so-called "cheap" paint. Green Seal spreads farther, it excels in covering power, and surpasses in length of service.

It protects the wood surface through the hottest summers, and the coldest, wettest winters. Both beautifies and preserves. Shuts out decay and ugliness. The exact formula appears on every package.

WOMEN VOTERS HAILED BY WOOD

Their Advent in Politics Will Bring Wholesome Effect, He Believes.

Leonard Wood has welcomed heartily the advent of women to active participation in our political life. He has been impressed, in the course of a career that has shown him many varied phases of the modern widening of woman's influence, that the coming of the so-called gentler sex into public affairs is a gain for civilization and will result in renewed hope for the world at large. Wood has endeavored himself to American women for his humanitarian achievements in various fields of endeavor, in which he was enabled to bring vastly improved conditions to the homes, schools, hospitals and charitable institutions under his influence.

In connection with this subject Wood says: "Women are bringing an elevating influence into public life that will tend to correct many of the evils to which our present unrest is due. One of the reasons for the growth of undesirable tendencies in our country has been the regrettable fact that country men, qualified by education and character for public service, have wistfully neglected their civic duties.

"With the coming of women to the polls, these men will be ashamed to disregard the political duties they formerly shirked. A man who speaks election day at his club while his wife was at the polls is sure to forfeit the respect of the community.

"I believe woman suffrage will have a vast and uplifting effect upon our national life. Public morality will be increased, housing conditions improved, the problems of child labor satisfactorily solved, sweat-shop evils minimized and the training given to children in our schools purged of its present defects.

"Our women must take up the question of the social evil. To that and to other of our vital problems they now come with the power of the ballot. Women realize that our American civilization can never be what it should be until we give much care to the upbringing of our children as we do to the breeding of our cattle.

Women's Great War Service.
"In short, the difficulties that apparently beset our national future would confront us as immensely more insuperable if we could not look forward to overcoming them through the assistance of voting women. The granting of suffrage to women gives us the promise of an amazingly better world in the years to come.

"There is one field into which the women are coming that can be called the big field. It is the field of national politics. Personally, having seen what the women did during the war, both at home and abroad, I feel very confident that the entrance of American women into the field of American politics is going to have a very helpful and good effect on the country. I think that the women will make our politics cleaner and introduce a better spirit into the political field.

"We have reason to be proud of the American women during the war. I do not know of any part of the country where American women did not take hold of the situation with keen energy. I know from personal experience in the Middle West and neighboring states the women did everything humanly possible to send our men overseas sound in body and clear in soul. They looked after the men in the towns near the camps; they maintained excellent conditions of public morality; they looked after the men when they were en route to the sea; they were at the ports of embarkation to give the last help they could give, and when the men arrived on the other side, they found American women scattered at various points of activity from the ports of debarkation up to the fighting line. We found the women of the Red Cross, the women of the Salvation Army and others actually in the battle area doing work. In fact, the work of women in all kinds of war activities was wonderful."

ORGANIZED LABOR STRONG FOR WOOD

New York.—Organized labor is lining up strongly in support of General Wood's candidacy for the nomination for President of the Republic to be elected. Three of the leading labor journals of the United States have come out unqualifiedly for General Wood and are urging working men throughout the nation to back him as "labor's true friend."

Carl Young, president of the Michigan State Federation of Labor, says: "The working men saw through the efforts of the Democratic administration to kill General Wood politically, by assigning him to cities where there were labor troubles, hoping and believing the friendship of labor would thus be alienated. Instead of losing the friendship of labor, General Wood increased his already high standing with the working men by his frankness, fearlessness, and fairness, and has the support of the best element in the ranks of American laborers in the contest for the Republican nomination."

The strong endorsements from the labor papers in Flint, Michigan, Chicago and Buffalo, together with President Young's statement should be sufficient answer to the question "How is labor going to stand on Wood?"

FILIPINOS OPEN OHIO CAMPAIGN

Jose P. Melencio, Filipino Publicity Chief, Speaks at University of Ohio.

Declaring that the Filipino people are unitedly for independence, and that they expect America to "make good its promise without further delay," Jose P. Melencio, considered one of the ablest of the Filipino orators now in

JOSE P. MELENCIO,
Who Spoke on Philippine Independence
Before the University of Ohio
Student Body.

the United States, made an interesting presentation of the case for independence to the students of the University of Ohio at Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Melencio came from Washington, where he is in charge of the Philippine Press Bureau, especially to address the Ohio students. His speech marks the opening of the Philippine campaign in Ohio for independence. Other educational work is to be done in the state and it is declared that the movement to obtain independence, now being launched in every part of the United States, will not until Congress concedes "self-determination."

"The American people, through their representatives in Congress, solemnly promised independence to the Philippine Islands," said Melencio; "but, unlike other promises, there is no way of making America's faith good."

"I take it that you already know how stubbornly the Filipinos resisted your coming to the Philippines, how with fire and steel and bolo they showed the world that they did not desire to be governed without their consent. I am sure you do not now blame us for our only crime was that we believed in the historical American principles of your declaration of independence and desired to set up a government of our own choice.

"But I refer to that old misunderstanding merely in order that you may better judge the Philippine issue as it is today, for the Filipinos have all but forgotten the feeling that once existed. Twenty years ago American students have convinced them that America did not come to the Philippines for colonial glory or aggrandizement nor for commercial gain, but to infuse a new life into our newly awakened nationalism, to lift the level of our attainments to a still higher level and to lead us gently by the hand until we were ready to set up a government of our own.

"President McKinley said it was Filipino liberty and not American power, Filipino welfare and not American gain, that America would seek to enhance, and this has been your policy."

"What now America's task in the Philippines is done. We today have the stable government upon the existence of which Congress solemnly promised to withdraw American sovereignty. The granting of Philippine independence will be the greatest example of international square dealing in history. To the everlasting credit of the United States it will mean a vindication of the rights of small and weaker nations to exist side by side with the great powers unshaken and unafraid."

Hate Made of China.
Ta-jung, the wisest monarch who ever governed Korea, worked on more sagacious lines than those followed by its Japanese rulers of today. When Ta-jung came to the throne his subjects were the most quarrelsome of Oriental races, and the number of deaths caused daily by sudden brawls and reached alarming proportions. It was, therefore, decreed that no adult male should appear in public without a china hat in the shape of an inverted flower pot. Hard fighting was impossible in such fragile headgear, the removal of which in any public place rendered the culprit liable to a dose of the bastinado for the first offense and de-capitalization for the second. Within a brief space brawling ceased almost entirely, and Ta-jung issued another decree congratulating his subjects on their peaceful behavior. The Koreans still wear hats of this shape, made of straw instead of china.

Selfishness Gains Nothing.
Men should see life as more than a means of personal advancement. Selfishness may achieve, but its inglorious name will soon be forgotten in the round of yesterday. It's life that lives for the common good that lays tribute on humankind and carries an indelible name in the very foundations of history. Call it Utopian if you will. Facts show that men must die to really live. And men who give themselves to human betterment live as they raise others from unreasonable drudgery to honorable toil and common comforts.

Reasons for Using Stone.
The forest rangers on Mount Rainier have a house on top of the mountain built of stone, whereas under usual conditions it is the custom to construct these buildings of wood. The proximity of the stone and the scarcity of wood and the difficulty of obtaining it from the lower levels is responsible for this departure.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN CIVIL WAR VETERAN.

Alexander C. Kyle, a life long resident of this township, died at one o'clock Thursday morning at his home south of town at the age of 80 years. Death was due to a complication of troubles that he has suffered for the past few years.

Upon his discharge from the army he went west where he remained several years but returned in 1878 and engaged in farming. He was married to Mrs. Sarah Creswell McCollum, who survives, in 1896.
